2,000 SEE 13TH ANNUAL HORSE SHOW AT FAIR

The 13th annual horse show was held Saturday afternoon at the South Mountain Fair, with an estimated 2,000 watching the show in which 52 horsemen and women participated.

Jumpers were absent, but other classes were described as "the best shown so far at the annual South Mountain Fair horse show." Among the best of the classes from the horsemanship standpoint were the open five-gaited saddle horse won by Dr. Bruce N. Wolff, Springs Ave., with Jack Bucher, of Blue and Gray Stables, Gettysburg R. D., second, and the Open Western in which John Eyer, Fairfield R. 2, was first; Bill Clapsaddle of Little Valley Ranch, Gettysburg R. D., second; Harris Adams, Dover R. 3, third; and Glenn Olmstead, Biglerville R. 2, fourth.

Return To Break Tie
The western horses and the English style clashed in the pairs event which was so close it ended in a tie the first time and a re-run had to be held to determine the first and second place winners. The ultimate decision gave first place to the western horses, "Rusty" ridden by Harris Adams and "Tommy's Wrangler" ridden by Jeffrey Shaffer, Columbia, over the "eastern"—English style—pair of "Red Fox" ridden by Joan Mumper, Harrisburg R. 1, and "King Amber" ridden by Miss Glenda Bowers of Columbia.

In the open five-gaited saddle horse event Dr. Wolff rode "Penny's Queen" and Bucher rode "Pride." In the open western Eyer rode "Susie"; Clapsaddle, "So Gold"; Adams, "Rusty"; and Olmstead, "Ginger."

Other results include: Open Pony Roadster, "Pal," driven by W. R. Sellers, Greencastle, first; "Gay Boy," driven by William Fleishman and owned by W. R. Sellers, second.

Pony Driving Event
Children's Pony Driving, "Four Winds Minute Man," driven by Garmie Bowers, Klay Knoll Pony Stables, Shepherdstown, W. Va., first; "Gray Boy," driven by Debbie Swope, Gettysburg, second; "Superior's White Fox" driven by Cherrie Swope, third, and "Superior's White Star," driven by Teddie Read, fourth. By LEE LINDER
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A pre-dawn settlement, hammered out after nearly 15 hours of peace talks, today ended the 12-day-old strike that had stopped the Pennsylvania Railroad for the first time in 114 years.

Leaders of the 20,000 strikers, members of two non-operating unions, said they were "delighted" with the agreement, ending a dispute over work rules and job security that began in mid-1957.

Raging Hurricane Lashes New York Area; 4,000 Are Evacuated Off Long Island

NEW YORK (AP)—Hurricane Donna's advance fringe smashed into this heavily populated metropolitan area today with high winds and heavy rain.

Eastern Long Island and southern New England were in the path of the raging storm, one of the most destructive hurricanes in years. Four thousand residents of Fire Island, off Long Island's south shore, were evacuated.

The Weather Bureau here warned against high tides and flooding of coastal areas and highways. It said flooding might be felt as far as 100 miles inland from rain and swollen streams.

The normally teeming sidewalks of New York were virtually deserted, as pedestrians took cover. Park trees bent and awnings flapped under the force of the wind.

This was the first day of school in New York City, and the schools opened as usual. But before noon the Board of Education issued a bulletin advising those attending afternoon or other late sessions to stay at home.

Planes were evacuated from Stewart Air Force Base at Newburgh, N.Y., and other air bases in the New York and New England area.

Lashed By Winds
Montauk Point on the extreme tip of Long Island was being lashed by winds at 40 miles an hour by midmorning, when the eye of the storm still was far to the south, about 65 miles southeast of Cape May, N.J.

The hurricane was on a course that would take it over the eastern end of Long Island at about 2 p.m., the Weather Bureau said. Its center was moving at about 35 miles an hour.

The storm carried torrential rains and bristling 115 m.p.h. winds. Storm warnings were hoisted from the Carolinas north through New York to Portsmouth, N.H.

Storm shutters and sandbags were thrown up in southern New England. Tides up to 12 and 14 feet above normal were expected in upper Buzzards Bay on Cape Cod.

Rhode Island schools were closed and the National Guard was on standby alert.

Planes were evacuated from Mitchell Air Force Base on Long Island and from Bradley Air Force Base near Hartford, Conn.

Thank You

The Gettysburg Times
Gettysburg, Pa.
To The Editor:

The large city newspapers' commendation of Adams County Court for its excellence noted by reporters during the recent Elmo Smith murder trial in Gettysburg is timely and justifiable, but however this merit of quality extends into our community of citizenry who elect a highly qualified court and furnish it with equally qualified juries.

This commendatory should also include The Gettysburg Times, who, we must admit, sacrificed increased circulation by holding its head line publicity to a minimum and thusly upholding the dignity reason for this trial's movement to our community.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Congo President Joseph Kasavubu today called on the United Nations to reorganize and train the national army under his supreme command as chief of state.

The latest communication on the chaotic Congo situation arrived at U.N. headquarters as the Security Council was confronted with the question of deciding whether to deal with Kasavubu or Patrice Lumumba, who claims to be still running the turbulent African country as premier.

Delegations from both Kasavubu and Lumumba were flying to New York, but it appeared unlikely either would arrive in time for a council meeting this afternoon. There was talk of postponing the meeting, but some delegates wanted to push ahead even without Congo representation.

The Kasavubu proposal on the armed forces was transmitted to Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld as one part of a four-point program. The other three proposals included: 1. Speedy formation of police units.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Floridians planned massive repair and clean-up projects today in the wake of one of the century's worst hurricanes.

Gov. Leroy Collins said he intended to ask President Eisenhower to declare portions of south Florida a major disaster area and scheduled a helicopter flight to stricken sections.

An estimated 250,000 homes were without electricity and thousands of telephones were still out after passage of killer Hurricane Donna.

Seven persons were known dead in the state and two others were missing and presumed dead. Southeastern Red Cross headquarters in Atlanta listed 75 persons injured and 57 hospitalized.

An Air Force officer said four-engine transports would bring 240,000 pounds of bridge girders and equipment from Pope Air Force Base, N.C. They will carry another 330,000 pounds from Ft. Benning, Ga., and 240,000 pounds from Ft. Campbell, Ky.

Adjournment Up To Legislature

HARRISBURG (AP)—The politically divided legislature, back in business after a summer-long rest, today tackled again the question of whether to go home for good or take another recess.

That issue was about the only major one to be resolved as the constitutional limited session drew election-minded lawmakers back to the capitol.

Democrats again pushed for final adjournment on the grounds there was nothing to do and it would waste taxpayers' money to prolong the session.

Republicans kept their plans secret until a caucus of party leaders in the Senate could take up the question which has become one of the major issues in the current election campaign.

MILITARY PLOT IS SQUASHED

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—A military plot against the regime of President Romulo Betancourt was put down early today, an official government announcement said.

The announcement said a lieutenant named Saldia and a group of about 20 men seized the radio station "Continente" and held it for about an hour. They were arrested and the government said the situation had returned to normal.

Betancourt's moderate Socialist coalition has been harassed by plots of both domestic and foreign origin during his more than a year as president.

Last June 24, he was badly burned when a cache of dynamite exploded as he rode by in an automobile. The Venezuelan government blamed that assassination attempt on the Dominican Republic and won support for its charges from the Organization of American States.

Much of Betancourt's domestic trouble has come from military officers who have tried to reimpose a military dictatorship.

Pickets Eager To Learn Pact
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—"What did we get?"

This was how seven damp pickets outside darkened, cavernous Pennsylvania Railroad Terminal reacted to news that the 12-day-old strike ended early today.

Although all expressed relief that the strike was over and they would soon go to work—they still were eager to learn of settlement terms.

Standing in a heavy rain, ducking beneath their picket signs, the seven—representatives of the 20,000 strikers—talked of the settlement terms.

The pickets seemed unsure what to do next. Finally F. A. Malatesta, of Philadelphia, the picket captain for the 3 to 7 a.m. shift, decided to call union headquarters.

Unfortunately the telephone outside the terminal was out of order. He started to enter the empty terminal, thought better of it, and backed away. He corralled another picket and together they trudged off in the rain in quest of another telephone.

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—About 2,500 fire chiefs, some from England, Japan, Italy and South America, are here today for the opening of the International Association of Fire Chiefs conference. The four-day meeting will cover the latest techniques in firefighting and fire prevention.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The strike at Alcatraz went into its sixth day today with prisoners still refusing to work.

"A few are talking about coming out of their cells," said Warden Paul J. Madigan, "but there apparently is a good deal of pressure and fear."

Involved were about 260 inmates, some of the nation's most hardened criminals.

HOLMDEL, N. J. (AP)—Two men armed with shotguns held up a branch of the Merchants Trust Co. today and escaped in a state police car with an estimated $28,000 to $30,000, police said.

The car they used for their escape was found abandoned later near Telegraph Hill Park. Some 40 state police were conducting a search of the park.

IKE SPEAKS AT BALTIMORE

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon officially kicked off his presidential campaign today by promising to carry the "peace issue" to the voters in all the 50 states.

"The overriding issue," the GOP nominee told a cheering crowd at Baltimore's Friendship Airport, "is keeping the peace without surrender and extending freedom throughout the world."

Nixon's plane took off at 11:12 a.m. EDT.

Nixon, with President Eisenhower and other top Republicans, joined in launching a 9,000-mile, first-lap campaign carrying him to Indianapolis, Dallas and San Francisco, spoke inside a hall of the airport because of the heavy rains from the fringes of Hurricane Donna.

President Eisenhower said that to his mind the hurricane "is a good omen." He recalled a rainstorm at Abilene, Kan., where he launched his own campaign in 1952.

"You have a record," he told the Republican rally, "for launching champions."

TWO BURNED IN BOAT BLAST

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—Two Pennsylvania men were burned and another escaped injury Saturday night when the motor of the cabin cruiser exploded.

John Miller and Charles Eichelberger, both of Ridley Township, Pa., were burned by the explosion on the Delaware River. Robert G. Haring, Springfield, Pa., escaped injury.

The three abandoned the cruiser and were plucked from the water about half an hour later by a freighter. The freighter took them to Baltimore, where they were driven home.

Ran Through Flames
Miller and Eichelberger were in a hospital at Ridley Park.

Haring said the explosion occurred when Miller was attempting to start the engine after it stalled. Eichelberger was in the cabin and to escape had to run past the burning motor.

"He ran right through the flames," Haring said.

Miller had recently purchased the boat in Cape May, N. J. The three were sailing it to Darby Creek, Pa., when it caught fire.

When the men last saw the boat it was afire and drifting. Later the Coast Guard reported seeing the burned hulk floating in the current.

Eichelberger suffered second and third degree burns. Miller was not burned as seriously.

ROCKEY NOT RECOGNIZED ON AUTO TRIP

By RICHARD L. GRAVES

HARRISBURG (AP) — Why aren't the people waving?

It is a question that has suddenly worried Republican candidates. New York's Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, an indefatigable wanderer, toured the 50 miles between Harrisburg and Chambersburg Saturday, giving the people by the road first right, left, then both arms.

With rare exceptions there was no response. As Sen. George N. Wade (R-Cumberland) said in a hasty strategy conference in the middle of a Shippensburg street, "It could be indicative." Of what, nobody would say, but the looks were grim.

Corn Soup Rally

Cumberland and Franklin counties are Republican country. Rockefeller toured on behalf of Vice President Richard M. Nixon's presidential bid.

It all began as the Rockefeller motorcade left Harrisburg, headed for the Franklin County Republican chicken corn soup rally in Benedict's Woods between Chambersburg and Waynesboro.

Rockefeller, sitting up in the back of a big black convertible gave in quick succession enthusiastic waves to drivers of an ice cream truck, a bread truck and a power company truck. No waves back. On through Camp Hill went the motorcade. The community fire company sounded its sirens. (Later it turned out that a number of volunteers answered the familiar signal ready to do battle as smoke-eaters.)

Talks In Carlisle

The caravan pulled into Carlisle where Rockefeller addressed a crowd of some 500 from the steps of the Cumberland County Court House which has never quite recovered from the civil war. Confederate Gen. Jeb Stuart shot holes in the building's portico and they are still there.

As Rockefeller moved through the crowd to the steps a pair of genteel elderly ladies watched: "That's Oliver Dickey," said one, "but who are those people with him?"

"I think that's Norman Rockefeller, Ellie."

"Who?"

"Norman Rockefeller."

Ellie wagged her head in disbelief. Everybody knows Oliver Dickey, Cumberland County GOP chairman.

Attempted Robbery: An unsuccessful attempt was made on Monday night last by some villain or villains, to enter the cellar of A. Scott and Son, merchants in this place. They are composed entirely of Bell and Everett men, and on Tuesday night last made a parade just after the "Wide Awakes" had dismissed. They outnumbered the Republicans almost two to one. The Republicans of Blair county are getting disheartened and already concede that county to Bell and Everett.

President Cleveland: President Cleveland has appointed Mrs. Marion A. Mulligan, of Chicago, to be Pension Agent in that city, in place of Miss Ada C. Sweet, resigned. She is a noble and courageous woman, and besides has the qualifications for a business and financial trust, such as the Pension agency. Her appointment will be pleasant news to the gallant Colonel's old army friends, notably the 87th P.V.

Today's Talk
IDEAS ARE MONEY
Ideas have ruled the world. Ideas have often proved to be all many a man or woman has used as his or her total capital to begin with.
Ideas have often been money—and many times something better than money. Ideas are more independent, and free.
Ideas have won a tight race with money! Most of the great business men owe their progress to the fact that they had ideas which they converted into money. Most of our inventors have been those with ideas used as tools.
A young man with ideas has the world before him, being completely surrounded with possible capital ready and waiting to be given a test—like a race horse anxious for the start-off!
Enthusiasm starts with ideas, and then keeps it up, adding courage, patience, and the will to create.
Columbus had no plan but he had an idea, and that was to discover a new route to Asia. Instead, a great New World was found.
Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "On Crossing Bridges".

Just Folks
KEEP GOING
When things go wrong, as they sometimes will,
And the road you're treading seems all up hill,
When the funds are low and the debts are high,
And you want to smile, but you have to sigh,
When care is pressing you down a bit,
Rest if you must—but don't you quit.
Life is queer with its twists and turns,
As every one of us sometimes learns,
And many a failure turns about
When he might have won had he stuck it out;
Don't give up, though the pace seems slow—
You may succeed with another blow.
Often the goal is nearer than
It seems to a faint and faltering man,
Often the struggler has given up
When he might have captured the victor's cup,
And he learned too late, when the night slipped down,
How close he was to the golden crown.
Success is failure turned inside out—
The silver tint of the clouds of doubt,
And you never can tell how close you are,
It may be near when it seems afar;
So stick to the fight when you're hardest hit—
It's when things seem worst that you mustn't quit.

Stalled Explosion
If it had announced such stern restrictions on Khrushchev before he embarked for this country, he might have exploded before a hastily summoned mass audience in Moscow and called off his trip. Instead, it waited until Khrushchev and his Communist companions were all boxed-in and out at sea in the ship that is bringing them here Sept. 19, one day before the United Nations General Assembly opens.
He can't grab a microphone in the middle of the Baltic or the Atlantic. If he has a temper-tantrum no one except his shipmates will have to put up with it. If he wants to turn around and go home, it probably won't bother the department.
Our diplomats could say: But you made President Eisenhower go home, after traveling all the way to Paris for nothing, when you called off the summit meeting. So why feel so bad about it?
More likely the department's action will probably just raise

Khrushchev Is Restricted To Maintain "His Safety"
By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — The American visits of Premier Nikita Khrushchev are taking on the air of a man looking over some valuable property he hopes to acquire.
When he first came here a year ago, he brought his own personal family along. This time he's bringing his Communist relatives, the top leaders of the Iron Curtain countries.
The mere thought of his presence seems to have a depressing effect. The last time he came, the stock market went down. At the news of his second coming, it dipped again.
Cordiality Coves
The last time the American government couldn't have been more cordial if it had been a real estate agent. It didn't put up a "for sale" sign but it did hold open house so he could wander around.
This time the State Department is making it clear the United States is a restricted neighborhood where the residents have signed a covenant against letting Communists in.
Over the weekend the department said Khrushchev won't be permitted any American traveling at all. In fact, he'll be so limited he can't leave Manhattan Island, even to visit the Soviet lodge on Long Island.
Safety Precaution
It was done sweetly enough. The department said in effect it was making all America off-limits to him for his own safety.
Khrushchev shouldn't have any trouble interpreting this as a piece of diplomatic tit-for-tat for the way he wrecked the summit meeting, insulted President Eisenhower, called off his Russian pig, and exploited the U2 spy plane episode.
From a diplomatic view the State Department's timing was practically exquisite.
Stalled Explosion
If it had announced such stern restrictions on Khrushchev before he embarked for this country, he might have exploded before a hastily summoned mass audience in Moscow and called off his trip. Instead, it waited until Khrushchev and his Communist companions were all boxed-in and out at sea in the ship that is bringing them here Sept. 19, one day before the United Nations General Assembly opens.
He can't grab a microphone in the middle of the Baltic or the Atlantic. If he has a temper-tantrum no one except his shipmates will have to put up with it. If he wants to turn around and go home, it probably won't bother the department.
Our diplomats could say: But you made President Eisenhower go home, after traveling all the way to Paris for nothing, when you called off the summit meeting. So why feel so bad about it?
More likely the department's action will probably just raise

Property Transfers

GRADUATES OF SMALLER HIGH SCHOOLS ARE "HANDICAPPED"
HARRISBURG (AP) — Students graduating from larger high schools have a better chance to qualify for college than those from smaller schools, the governor's Committee on Education says.
"The chances of getting into college or finding a white collar job are better in the larger schools," a report released over the weekend said, it added.
"The graduating classes of the small high schools contain a higher percentage of students with low IQs, lowest percentage of those entering college, highest percentage of those entering factories, armed forces and office work."
Result Of Survey
The committee said its findings were based on a survey of the 1959 graduating classes of 699 schools.
The report was the first of a series of 12 which the committee plans to release in its statewide education study started last April.
The committee's actual recommendations, however, will be made to the 1961 legislature which convenes in January.
The committee said its research indicated that "a good number of students don't get into college when they are best prepared because of lack of funds or lack of facilities in the colleges."
It based this conclusion of the discovery that about 3,000 of the brightest students in the 1959 graduating class did not enter college.

TRADE BANS IN GERMANY
BERLIN (AP) — West Germany's cabinet may discuss today an official embargo on trade with Communist East Germany, but the chance that all trade channels will be closed seems small.
The ban would be intended to strike back at the Communists for their blows at West Berlin. They have barred West Germans from the eastern part of the city unless they get special permits. Sunday they also arrested and threw out two West German newspaper reporters.
Ludwig Erhard, acting West German chancellor, has come out against any legal pressure on West German businessmen to halt trade. He says he wants a voluntary boycott. It seems unlikely he will get much of that, either.
Last year West Germany shipped a postwar record of about $257 million worth of goods to the East Germans. About a fifth of that was iron and steel, vital to the Communists' seven-year plan.

Will Okay Agreement
Quill said "the overwhelming majority will ratify this agreement when they learn its terms."
It was O'Neill who officially announced the strike's end. But even the settlement disclosure was cloaked in semi-secrecy.
Negotiators streamed from their separate rooms in the Sheraton Hotel to the joint conference hall below the lobby. Newsmen, cameramen, television and radio people trailed them.
Then management and labor, together with the mediators and the mayor, went into the hall—and slammed the door in the face of the press. A half hour later, with both sides beaming as they sat around a long felt-covered table, O'Neill said bluntly: "A satisfactory agreement has been reached, subject to ratification of the unions... the strike is over."
Quill said he would have the okay of his 46 PRR locals "in a couple of hours"—before the morning's over.
Quill obviously happy, said "this strike and settlement may very well be the turning point for up-to-date labor relations on the nation's railroads."
The agreement totals more than 30 points, all touching on job security and work rules.

Bermudian Drops 20-0 Verdict At Northern In Opener On Saturday

Sparked by runs of 60 and 85 yards by John Walker, Northern Joint of Dillsburg blanked Bermudian Springs 20-0 in the opening football game for both schools Saturday afternoon at Dillsburg.

It was Walker's 60-yard run in the opening period which set up the first Northern score. He carried the ball to the 12 and three plays later Al Rider swept end from the five to score. Jay Young booted the extra point.

Northern marched from midfield for its second touchdown in the second period. Walker and Nick Sileo sparking the drive which culminated in Gary Gochenour's one-yard plunge into the end zone. The try for the point failed.

Neither team could muster enough punch for a score in the third period.

Bermudian Threatens

Bermudian made its best scoring bid early in the last quarter when it drove 55 yards to reach the Polar Bears' 15 where the attack broke down and Northern took over.

On the first play from scrimmage, Walker circled end from his 15-yard line, picked up blockers as he streaked along and ran 85 yards for a TD. Young place-kicked the point.

Tom Hardy, 195-pound junior, was outstanding for Bermudian as he ran and passed in commendable form.

Bermudian takes on another worthy opponent next Saturday night when it meets Boiling Springs on the Bubbler gridiron.

AMATEUR GOLF PLAY BEGINS IN ST. LOUIS

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Seven foreign champions insert a strong competitive flavor in the 60th National

Amateur Golf tournament, opening a grueling match-play schedule today with a field of 200 hopefuls.

Among the challengers for the title held by 20-year-old Jack

Nicklaus, Ohio State pharmacy

student, is lanky Bruce Devlin,

22, of Australia. He is among foreigners who will compete in the World Amateur team matches in two weeks at Ardmore, Pa.

Devlin must be considered in this meet, which laboriously leads to a 36-hole semifinal Friday and a 36-hole final Saturday after six rounds of 18 holes in man-to-man combat.

One Of Best

"He is one of the world's finest amateurs," says Joe Dey, the U.S. Golf Association executive director. "Our boys must watch out for him."

Dey forwarded his message from New York, where he is recovering from injuries sustained in a fall and will miss his first National Amateur since 1931.

Devlin will meet Bill Stewart of Springfield, the 1933 and 1937 Missouri amateur champion, in today's action on the St. Louis

Country Club course, a relatively short 6,616 yards with a tricky 35-

36-71 par.

Nicklaus Favored

Nicklaus, who has been under par in four of his practice rounds, was the favorite. He faced John

Donohue of Des Moines, Iowa, in the opening round of 72 matches.

Charlie Coe of Oklahoma City, winner in 1949 and 1958, is highly rated although recovering from a recent siege of pneumonia that dropped his weight to 140 pounds.

was rained out of a doubleheader with Chicago. The Pirates still

KENNEDY TO LAUNCH HIS PA. CAMPAIGN

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The political campaign in Pennsylvania picks up steam this week when Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), the Democratic presidential candidate, opens his campaign in the state.

Kennedy is scheduled to appear in Harrisburg Thursday before an expected 10,000 persons at a $100-a-plate dinner.

The Republicans, meanwhile, sent Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York into central Pennsylvania Saturday to officially kick off the GOP state campaign.

Lodge Comes Tuesday

And Republican vice presidential candidate Henry Cabot Lodge, who already has made one major appearance in Abington, comes back to Pennsylvania Tuesday to address a rally at Erie. Lodge also is scheduled to appear at Sharon, Mercer and Meadville and probably will stop at Butler, New Castle and Beaver Falls.

Rockefeller keynoted the theme that only the GOP has the leadership experience to meet the world challenges. And Pennsylvania Republicans committed their full presidential election campaign to the theme Rockefeller sounded at stops during an eight-hour motor tour.

Rockefeller heralded the experience and qualifications of Vice President Richard M. Nixon for general and to education in particular.

Deplores Bigotry

He first addressed GOP officials and candidates at the Harrisburg consistory. He later appeared at Carlisle, Shippensburg and Quincy in Franklin County.

Speaking before a crowd of more than 1,500 at Harrisburg, Rockefeller criticized the Democratic-controlled Congress for what he termed its failure to enact programs in the party platform.

During a brief news conference in Harrisburg and later at an interview at Quincy, Rockefeller said:

"I deplore bringing religious bigotry in any form or from any source into the political life in this country."

5,000 At Quincy

The largest crowd of the tour was at Quincy where some 5,000 persons were on hand for a GOP corn soup rally.

In Philadelphia, Democratic Gov. David Lawrence of Pennsylvania said the Republicans can not fulfill the pledges made in their platform adopted at the national convention.

Lawrence told 10,000 cheering Democrats at a city campaign kickoff that the GOP didn't have "the courage to set aside Richard Nixon" as their candidate for president. He said the vice president wasn't the most popular choice among Republicans.

Lawrence added that "you're going to be against a press almost unanimously in support of Nixon."

The notes on the Demaree (or Demorest) family will be continued next week.

Let's Look At The Record

UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER
FDR's Ill-chosen Casablanca Phrase
Did Not Fully Apply To JapanBy JIM DAN HILL, Ph.D.
President, Wisconsin State College, Superior

JAMES B. CONANT has been a top American name in science, education and public affairs for 30 years.

He is now 67. But age has brought no weight of years. It has merely added to the ascendancy of his stardom.

At 30, Dr. Conant was one of America's greatest chemists. At 40 he was president of Harvard University. Through World War II and after he was drafted into public service.

He bridged the gap between the pure scientists and the war born bureaucracy with such rare ability that President Eisenhower prevailed upon Mr. Conant, when he had arrived at age 60, to take retirement from Harvard for full time in government.

HE FIRST SERVED as United States high commissioner for the American zone of conquered Germany. Later he continued in Bonn as the first American ambassador to the Federal Republic of Germany.

When Dr. Conant resigned in 1957, there was the natural assumption that he was hanging up the harness.

Actually, his work since 1957 appears most likely to transcend all previous contributions of his talents to the public welfare in general and to education in particular.

HIS LITTLE BOOK, "The American High School Today: A First Report to Interested Citizens," (McGraw-Hill Book Co., $1.00 in paper back edition), is achieving the greatest impact since a small group of Columbia University Teachers College professors perpetrated the persuasive and alluring philosophies of their self-styled "Progressive Education" upon American pedagogical thinking.

Since the first Russian Sputnik, there have been critics galore. But that is not Dr. Conant's role. Backed by Carnegie Corporation grants, he was deep in a study of secondary education before the Russians unveiled their science progress surprise.

Moreover, Dr. Conant is constructive and positive in his approach. This quality, combined with the absence of the chronic adverse comparison with what the Russians are doing that we are not doing, gives the "Report" a refreshing helpful note.

DR. CONANT'S views have been points of occasional reference by this writer in previous essays touching on education. Hence, this is no book review in the conventional sense of the term.

The occasion for mentioning it again is the apparent impact "The American High School Today" has already made upon high school planning in such a brief time.

Its precepts are already past the discussion stage. Some cities and towns are in the early action phase as schools across the nation open this week.

TO LAZY PUPILS, the worst news in these early trends is the daily program "stretch out" and the vigorous return to traditional "homework."

Syracuse, New York, is introducing seven-period days and in White Plains, New York, it is a full eight-hour day for the pupils.

Miami, Florida, is starting classes at 7:30 to take care of electives outside the time table of the stepped-up academic load.

In Columbus, Ohio, there is extra time for junior high students deficient in reading. This applies the old rule that only those in difficulty need put in the longer, learning day.

In Michigan, the Grosse Pointe school principals are sending pamphlets to the parents on the need for homework by pupils. They also tell how a parent can be of material assistance.

THE TREND toward modern languages is more pronounced than in many years. Part of it is due to Dr. Conant's insistence one language should be pursued at least four years, or dropped, should the student prove inept.

The present trend toward modern languages is further influenced by the frequently found European practice of introducing foreign languages in the grades. One middle western school system is said to be experimenting with Spanish in the kindergarten. One can hardly say what Dr. Conant would think of that.

NO HIGH SCHOOL appears to have accepted the challenge and specific suggestion made by Dr. Conant that graduating seniors should not be given a rank in class according to their grades in all subjects through an accumulated, four-year record.

Dr. Conant and his research associates found that in many high schools the desire to rank high caused many bright students to commit themselves only to easy courses. He thinks valedictorians should be selected upon some other basis.

It is a brave and bold principal who will wrestle with that problem. A Minnesota principal recently remarked he could not win more than one fall in three under the present system. To improve his own percentage, he is annually naming three valedictorians!

Dr. Conant was drawn up last week by State Atty. Gen. Anne X. Alpern. She said the press of other business prevented Smith from making the ruling official then.

Miss Alpern said civil service employees engaged in politics must be fired. They have no other opportunity.

THE TREND toward modern languages is more pronounced

CRITICS OF U. S. TREASURY ARE GIVEN DETAILS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The

Treasury is going out of its way to counter Democratic criticism of its proposal to offer higher interest rates to people who agree to swap certain World War II bonds for new issues.

The department, in announcing the plan Friday, handed newsmen a detailed explanation. The explanation dealt at length, if only by implication, with "highway robbery" charges voiced recently by several House Democrats.

In addition, the Treasury announced plans for top debt management officials to visit the major financial centers—New York, Chicago and San Francisco—next Wednesday to explain the operation to investors and answer questions from newsmen.

Furthermore, a printed "white paper" has been prepared to explain and defend the advance refunding idea. This will be made public Saturday.

The major aim of the bond swap—the first of its kind—is to postpone for several decades the refinancing in the open market wartime bonds which normally would come due between 1967 and 1972.

These bonds all carry 2½ per cent interest coupons. The new ones which the Treasury will issue will pay 3½ per cent.

$50 Million A Year

All the war issues won't be swapped at this time. The Treasury is limiting the current exchange offer to three bonds which total $12.4 billion and mature between 1967 and 1969. Also, it will accept no more than $6.6 billion of these in exchange for the new bonds which won't come due until 1980 at the earliest and 1998 at the latest.

If $5 billion of old bonds are exchanged, the Treasury will pay an extra $50 million a year in interest charges between now and their normal maturity dates.

This fact prompted several Democrats to take the House floor before adjournment and voice advance criticism of the refunding.

Rep. Byron L. Johnson of Colorado called the plan "robbery in broad daylight." Rep. Henry S. Reuss of Wisconsin termed it "a Committee of Seventy—a civic watchdog group—with being active in Democratic politics."

Further, she added.

If the ruling goes into effect, hundreds of civil service employees could lose their jobs. Specifically at issue are 49 Philadelphia civil service employees.

FAMILY SHOW IS PLANNED BY MISS TEMPLE

By BOB THOMAS
By Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—What this country needs, says Shirley Temple, is a return to old-fashioned moral values.

Shirley, now a housewife in Atherton, Calif., says she is appalled by some of the things she sees in movies and TV.

"The last two pictures I have seen were 'Suddenly, Last Summer' and 'Anatomy of a Murder,'" she remarked. "I don't think 'Suddenly Last Summer' should have been seen by anyone under 21, and I am dubious about its value to an adult. I suppose 'Anatomy of a Murder' is all right for those who like murder stories, but I found the dialogue offensive."

Lesson To Be Learned

"Too many of the other Hollywood films follow the same line. I agree with Samuel Goldwyn, who said that producers have gone overboard on sex in films."

"As he said, there is a lesson to be learned from the Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire. When people got contented and complacent, the moral standards started to fall, and they didn't have the strength to lift themselves up."

There is too much phony psychiatry being foisted on the public, Shirley observed, with a resultant chipping away at moral values.

For Whole Family

Being the mother of three and part-time receptionist at a child's psychiatry clinic in Palo Alto, Shirley has a more than average concern in such matters. She has a chance to do something about it, both as a noted figure and as star of her own TV series. The weekly shows will start on NBC next Sunday, and she'll appear in every third one.

"I hope it will be one hour of entertainment which the whole family can see every week," she said. "For that reason, I have control over the scripts and can make suggestions about things that I think would be offensive."

Shirley is a youthful 32. "But I will have been in the entertainment business for 30 years next year," she smiled. "If someone doesn't give me a testimonial dinner then, it'll be too late. All of the people who worked with me are dying off."

PROTESTANTS BEING URGED TO REGISTER

HARRISBURG (AP) — Protestants are being urged to register and vote at the Nov. 8 presidential election in a statewide letter-writing campaign by the Pennsylvania Council of Churches.

The Rev. George I. Evans of Harrisburg, executive secretary of the council's Division of Social Relations, said 750 letters have been sent to ministers and church leaders suggesting that they encourage the faithful to register and exercise their franchise.

Evans emphasized in an interview Sunday that the campaign was strictly nonpartisan and has nothing to do with the religious beliefs of either Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential candidate, or Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican nominee.

"We have had some limited criticism that we were out to get enough votes to defeat Kennedy but that is not the case," said Evans.

He said Protestant congregation have undertaken similar registration drives in previous elections but added, "This is the first time it has been this extensive."

The council comprises 18 Protestant denominations with a membership of some three million. Evans said he undertook the program after State Sen. Z. H. Confair, a Williamsport Republican, suggested that leaders of the three major faiths sponsor registration drives among their congregations.

KENNEDY HOPS ACROSS TEXAS

By JACK BELL
WITH KENNEDY (AP) — Determined to answer any attacks aimed at his Catholic religion, Sen. John F. Kennedy arched across Texas today in a double-barreled campaigning with his ticket mate, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson.

In an appearance before the Houston Ministerial Association tonight, the Democratic presidential nominee grapples with the religious issue—one that some Democratic leaders believe is endangering his chances of winning Texas' important 24 electoral votes.

How seriously this may affect the outcome in a state that President Eisenhower carried in the last two elections was outlined by Johnson who told a reporter: "Religion is the only issue the Republicans have in Texas. It's bad but we don't think it will prevail."

Johnson, the Senate Democratic leader, said recent statewide polls have shown Kennedy ahead of Vice President Richard M. Nixon, his Republican opponent. But Johnson said at least 12 per cent
